*The above prices, specifications, and conditions are satisfactory and are hereby accepted. You are authorized to do the work as specified. Payments will be made as outlined above.

Note: Upon default of Owner in payment for services rendered, or other obligation under the terms of this contract, Contractor shall be entitled to all sums due under the contract, and in addition may recover interest at the rate of 18% per annum on all sums due Contractor, until paid in full; Contractor in addition to other rights, shall be entitled to all reasonable costs incurred in enforcing this contract and all reasonable costs incurred in collecting payment hereunder, including recovery of ATTORNEY FEES incurred in collection and enforcement actions (with or without the filing of suit).

Warranty

Taylor|Leonard Corp, do hereby warrant that all labor and material furnished and work performed in conjunction with the above referenced project are in compliance with the Contract Documents and authorized modifications thereto, and will be free from defects due to defective workmanship for a period of (1) year from date of completion/final payment

Terms and Conditions

Warranty is subject to the following:

- Contractor has been paid in full for the workmanship according to contract documents.
- This Warranty does not cover any damage to a person or property arising from the use of any of the products or materials furnished or any methods employed in connection with the work.
- This Warranty stands null and void if any modifications or changes are made to the products or materials used in connection with the work without the prior written consent of the Contractor.
- This Warranty shall only be valid if all project close-out documents have been duly received by the Contractor.

Exclusions

The following causes/reasons are not covered under this

Warranty:

Damage caused by negligence, intentional misuse, or failure to properly maintain the work.

2. Damage is caused by conditions beyond our control, such as, but not limited to, acts of God (floods, lightning, etc.), war, civil unrest, or governmental regulation.

3. Any changes or modifications to the work performed by anyone other than the Contractor's authorized representatives.

4. Damage caused due to racks, crazing, mold, mildew, or other fungi.

5. Failure of the site to be prepared in accordance with our specifications prior to commencing work. This can include but is not limited to, excavations not being properly backfilled and compacted, or the site not being adequately drained.

6. This warranty does not cover any costs associated with the removal and/or reinstallation of the work.

Claims

- All the claims under this Warranty must be submitted in writing within 30 days of the defect becoming apparent.
 - The claim should be accompanied by proof of purchase and must include photographic evidence of the defect.
 - The Contractor must be given a reasonable opportunity to investigate all claims and to remedy any defects found. Subsequently, the Contractor reserves the right to inspect the work in question and determine, in its sole discretion, whether the workmanship is defective.
- Client understands that failure to give timely notice as set out in this clause will void this Warranty.

Resolution

In the event that a problem with the work should arise, the Contractor will have a reasonable time, not to exceed 90 days, to remedy the problem.

Replacement products, if required, will be new and of the same type, quality, and function as the originals, unless otherwise mutually agreed.

Non-transferable

This Warranty is non-transferable and shall be void if the ownership of the property on which the work was performed is transferred to another party prior to the expiration of the warranty period.

Agreed and Accepted

By signing this contractual agreement , the Client and Contractor agree to the terms of this Warranty. Thank you for choosing Taylor|Leonard Corp. If you have any questions regarding this warranty, please do not hesitate to contact us
